

Reforest Teak™ Plant Stand

Give your prize houseplants center stage on this elegant teak pedestal. Two separate platforms let you create an attractive, plant-filled display for a deck, a porch, or any room in your home.

The Plant Stand is made from a particularly dense teak that's harvested on a sustainable, environmentally-sound plantation in Costa Rica. The Plant Stand will weather to a beautiful silver-gray over time.

Assembly

Tools Needed: Phillips screwdriver

	(A) Top Shelf	1
Parts List:	(B) Bottom Shelf	1
	(C) Legs	4
	Screws	8

Step 1. Unpack and place all parts on a clean, level surface.

Step 2. Place the top shelf upside down on the ground. Line up the predilled holes in the legs with the center holes in the corner braces of the shelf. Use the screws provided to attach each leg to the shelf but do not fully tighten.

Step 3. Place the bottom shelf (with cut out corners) upside down, inside the legs. You may need a second person to hold the shelf as you attach the legs to the corner braces.

Step 4. Fully tighten all eight screws and place the stand upright. The assembly is now finished.

Caring for Teak Garden Furniture

Wood is a natural material and its appearance will change when left outdoors. Ultraviolet radiation from the sun bleaches out ALL wood regardless of the species. We recommend using a mild detergent, such as Simple Green and water to clean and refresh the color of your teak wood. Add a little bleach if there is any mold or mildew.

Simple Green is available in most supermarkets and is a mild, non-toxic, non-abrasive and biodegradable cleaner that is good for removing grit, dust, or pollen. It also helps to keep the finish uniform in color and smooth. However, if after several years your teak has turned silver and you want to restore the original golden teak color, the best way to achieve this is by light sanding.
