

Instyle

what's NOW!

The latest style buzz, news, and parties—minus all the hype EDITED BY ERIK JACKSON

CONSIDER THE ANGLES
Billowy draping and thin crossback straps look sexy from all sides.

Silk dress, $735; 877-242-3317 for stores. Christian Louboutin calfskin 3Fibbia heels, $895; 212-396-1884.

TAKE A LOGICAL APPROACH
Floor-length pants elongate your silhouette.

Cupro-ramie blazer, $660; net-a-porter.com. Cupro-ramie pants, $390; at Neiman Marcus. Etten Eller sterling silver and brass necklace, $295; barneys.com.

A BRAND NEW THEORY

Olivier Theyskens

Einstein expounded on relativity and Darwin elucidated evolution, but it's Olivier Theyskens, Theory's new artistic director, who cracks the code on this season's must-get looks. The 34-year-old Belgian designer aced it with his first collection for the label, Theysken's Theory, adding effortless edge to the brand's contemporary pieces. The result? Floor-grazing trousers that hang off hips, structured blazers with a touch of slouch, and airy dresses that float, all of which place the Nina Ricci alum firmly at the head of the class. —GRACE LEE

ADD IT UP
A swing dress + shrunken tuxedo = instant cool. The collar cutout makes the back of the jacket hang perfectly.

Acrylic-ramie blazer, $635; at Nordstrom. Cotton dress, $435; 877-242-3317 for stores. Etten Eller sterling-silver, brass and nickel necklace, $495; shop.creaturesofcomfort.us. Christian Louboutin calfskin Devalavi heels, $845; 212-255-1910.