Five Things We Liked on Monday

- 1. Olivier Theyskens's collaboration with Theory. The show was beautiful and — unlike the amazing Rochas collections of past — attainable!
- 2. Seeing the Olsens wear gorgeous floor-length furs at The Row's showroom. Do they know it was a really warm day? But we would have worn them, too!
- 3. The fact that they played "How Do You Solve a Problem Like Maria?" at the women's Thom Browne show.
- 4. Eating lunch at Cookshop in between shows in Chelsea.
- 5. Marc Jacobs's show starting promptly. So nice to get home at a decent hour during Fashion Week!
